Paragraph

One winter morning, I woke up early and got ready for school. It was very cold and there was heavy fog everywhere. The roads looked empty and silent. I was going to school to submit an article for our school magazine. On the way, I saw a terrible street accident. A little boy was crossing the road when a speedy car hit him. People gathered and quickly took him to the hospital. I felt very sad. Later, I wrote about the accident in the school magazine. There was also another article about deforestation in that magazine. It explained how cutting trees is harmful to the environment. Trees give us oxygen and protect us from natural disasters. That day I saw the winter morning, the accident, the importance of magazines, and the value of trees. It was a day I will never forget.

Dialogue

Title: A Short Dialogue Between Two Friends

Rahim: Hi Karim! How are you?

Karim: I'm fine. What about you?

Rahim: I'm studying hard for the SSC exam.

Karim: That's great. Still, many people in our country are illiterate.

Rahim: Yes, but now many are learning English and computer to improve their life.

Karim: Right. Mobile phones can help in learning too, if we use them properly.

Rahim: True. We must use time wisely and focus on study.

Karim: Best of luck for your exam.

Rahim: Thank you! Wish you the same.

Karim: You're welcome. See you soon. Goodbye!

Rahim: Goodbye!

Story

Karim was a poor rickshaw puller. He lived with his wife Bilkis and three children. One day, he bought a lottery ticket and surprisingly won 10 lakh taka. The family was very happy.

But suddenly, a fire broke out in the garment factory where Bilkis worked. Many workers were injured. Bilkis was safe, but very sad for her friends.

Karim used part of the lottery money to help the victims and started a small shop. Mr. Rahman, a retired teacher, heard their story and came to help. He started teaching their children for free.

Karim's family became an example in the village-of kindness, honesty, and hope.
